

The bush was soft and still tonight. Little Sunny the quokka padded

Sunny found a clearing — a small, round patch of open sky. She lay down on

She counted one star.
Then two. Then she stopped counting, because

Then — oh. A streak of silver light rushed across the sky. So quick.

Sunny breathed in slowly.
She had never seen anything so beautiful and Sunny's paws curled in.

Her eyes grew heavy. The grass was so soft. The Sweet dreams!

See you next time, little one ☐
