

Sunny woke up very early — much earlier than usual. The sky outside

He padded outside and looked up. And there it was. A crescent moon.

Like someone had taken a small piece of moonlight and held it up very

And still — still — he could see it clearly. So bright. So patient. He

All the sleeping animals in their burrows and hollows. All the nests

He thought the moon must feel very fond of all of it. Sunny sat down in the Sweet dreams!

See you next time, little one ☐

Sonny's Cozy Quokka Bedtime Tales

By Jamie Wigg