when he heard a small

There, half-hidden behind a large fallen branch, was a young dingo. A pup,

It tilted its head at Sunny in the most curious, uncertain way.

Neither of them moved.

After a long while, the pup lowered itself to its

Sunny let out a breath.
They stayed like that for a while, Sunny and the

Then a sound came from deeper in the bush — a low, soft call — and the Sweet dreams!

See you next time, little one ☐
