

The branch was covered in gumnuts. Little round ones, clustered together

Sunny reached up and touched one very gently.
It was smooth and cool

The ones with their little lids still on. She imagined the tiniest

Maybe they were sleeping right now. She moved closer and peered at the

Then she moved on a little way down the path and sat against the trunk

Back and forth. Like little cradles. And she fell asleep beneath them,

Sweet dreams!

See you next time, little one ☐

Sonny's Cozy Quokka Bedtime Tales

By Jamie Wigg