

Sonny's Cozy Quokka

Bedtime Tales

Snuggle in,
dream big,
and let the adventure
begin!

The light was changing.
Sunny had been sitting for a while, just

Something warmer.
Something gold. She didn't move

The light crept across the clearing. It touched the tops of the gum trees

The grey trunks turned red-gold. The bark, usually pale and

Her fur was lit from the side — each individual hair catching the light,

The shadows were long and soft. Everything was in relief — every blade of Sweet dreams!

See you next time, little one ☐
