

Sunny had counted nineteen stars when she noticed the one that kept

She waited. It came back.

Brighter, almost, for having been away. She

Hide. Appear. Hide.
Appear. Sunny smiled. The star was playing

Very slowly. Very gently.
The most patient game of hide-and-seek ever

She waited. The star reappeared. She felt a small surge of happiness

Hide. Appear. Hide —
She was asleep before the star came back. But the Sweet dreams!

See you next time, little one ☐
