

Customer Acquisition Email Pack

14 plug-and-play emails to find leads, close them, deliver, and bring them back.

Price: $17

Sales blurb:

Cold outreach that doesn't sound like cold outreach. Onboarding emails that make customers feel like they made the right choice. Win-back emails that actually win them back. 14 emails, every one tested in real freelance and digital-product businesses, with [BRACKETS] ready for you to fill in.

3-bullet description: - 14 emails covering acquisition → onboarding → upsell → win-back - Plain-text style, designed to land in primary inbox not promotions - Subject lines included, plus 3 alternates per email

How to use

1. Find the email for your stage.
2. Copy it. Replace every [BRACKET] .
3. Read it aloud once — if a sentence feels like marketing, cut it.
4. Send.

Acquisition (1–4)

Email 1: Cold outreach (problem-aware prospect)

Subject: quick question about [SPECIFIC THING ON THEIR SITE/PROFILE] Alternates: noticed you're hiring for X / a question about [their company] / [first name], 30 seconds

Hey [FIRST NAME],

Saw your [POST/SITE/JOB AD] mentioning [SPECIFIC THING]. I work with [SIMILAR COMPANIES] on [PROBLEM YOU SOLVE], and one thing usually trips them up: [SPECIFIC INSIGHT].

Worth a 15-min call to compare notes? Happy to share what's worked for [SIMILAR EXAMPLE] either way.

[YOUR NAME]

Email 2: Cold outreach (referral angle)

Subject: [MUTUAL CONTACT] suggested I reach out Alternates: intro from [MUTUAL] / re: [MUTUAL] / quick intro

Hi [FIRST NAME],
[MUTUAL CONTACT] mentioned you're working on [PROJECT/TOPIC] and thought I might be useful. I help [BUYER TYPE] with [OUTCOME] — recently helped [EXAMPLE] [SPECIFIC RESULT].
Open to a short call this week or next? I'll come prepared with one specific idea for [THEIR SITUATION].
[YOUR NAME]

Email 3: Follow-up to non-response (after 5 days)

Subject: RE: [ORIGINAL SUBJECT] Alternates: still relevant? / closing the loop / one more thing

Hi [FIRST NAME],
Bumping this — figured my last email might've gotten buried.
If [PROBLEM] isn't a priority right now, no worries at all, I'll stop bothering you. If it is and the timing's just bad, just reply "later" and I'll circle back next quarter.
[YOUR NAME]

Email 4: Last touch (after 2 unresponded follow-ups)

Subject: closing your file Alternates: wrapping up / final note from me / no harm no foul

Hi [FIRST NAME],
Going to assume the timing isn't right and stop emailing. If anything changes — or if you want to be introduced to someone in [THEIR FIELD] who's solved [PROBLEM] before — my inbox is open.

Sales (5–7)

Email 5: Discovery call recap + proposal

Subject: [PROJECT NAME] — recap + next steps

Hi [FIRST NAME],

Quick recap of our call so we're aligned:

What you're solving for: [PROBLEM IN THEIR WORDS] What I proposed: [OFFER, ONE SENTENCE] Investment: [$X], delivered [TIMELINE] Outcome: [SPECIFIC MEASURABLE RESULT]

If that matches what we discussed, here's the payment link: [LINK]. I'll kick off within 24 hours of payment.

Any concerns, just reply — happy to adjust.

Email 6: Objection handler (price)

Subject: RE: pricing

Hi [FIRST NAME],

Totally fair to think about it. Two things that might help:

1. [$X] is the all-in price — no surprises, no hourly creep. If [PROJECT] takes me 50 hours, that's on me.
2. If full scope is too much right now, I have a smaller version: [SMALLER OFFER] for [$Y]. Hits the most important part first — [SPECIFIC PIECE].

Want to do that one and decide on the rest later?

[YOUR NAME]

Email 7: Urgency (legitimate, not fake)

Subject: booking [MONTH] — heads up

Hi [FIRST NAME],

Booking my [MONTH] capacity this week — I take on [N] projects per month. If [YOUR PROJECT] is still on, want me to reserve a slot? No payment yet, just a soft hold until [DATE].

If now's not the right time, no worries — I'll loop back when you're ready.

[YOUR NAME]

Onboarding (8–10)

Email 8: Welcome (post-payment)

Subject: Welcome — what happens next

Hi [FIRST NAME],

Payment received — thanks for trusting me with [PROJECT]. Here's exactly what happens next:

1. Today: I send you the kickoff form (5 questions, 5 minutes).
2. Within 48 hrs: I deliver [FIRST MILESTONE].
3. Day 7: Check-in call (calendar link: [LINK]).
4. Day [X]: Final delivery.

Best way to reach me is reply to this email — I read everything within 4 hours during the day.

Email 9: Mid-project check-in

Subject: [PROJECT] — quick status

Hi [FIRST NAME],

We're [X] days in on [PROJECT]. Quick status:

✓ Done: [WHAT'S DONE] ↻ In progress: [WHAT'S IN PROGRESS] ⌚ Up next: [WHAT'S NEXT]

One question that came up: [QUESTION]. Could you reply with a quick answer when you have a sec?

[YOUR NAME]

Email 10: Final delivery

Subject: [PROJECT] — done

Hi [FIRST NAME],

All wrapped. Files / access here: [LINK].

A few things to know:

- [HOW TO GET STARTED / NEXT STEP]
- [COMMON GOTCHA]

- [WHERE TO FIND DOCS / ME]

Two asks before I let you go: 1. If this hit the mark, would you write me a 2-sentence testimonial? Reply with whatever feels true. 2. If you know anyone with [SAME PROBLEM], an intro means [INCENTIVE — discount / cash / nothing — pick one].

Retention (11–14)

Email 11: Upsell (30 days post-delivery)

Subject: how's [WHAT WE BUILT] going?

Hi [FIRST NAME],

Quick check-in — it's been 30 days since [PROJECT]. How's it performing?

A lot of past clients hit a wall around now where [COMMON FOLLOWUP NEED]. If that's you, I built a [FOLLOWUP OFFER] for exactly this — [$X].

If everything's smooth, ignore this and let me know how it's going. Either way, glad we worked together.

[YOUR NAME]

Email 12: Win-back (90 days silent)

Subject: small update on [SOMETHING THEY CARED ABOUT]

Hi [FIRST NAME],

Random — was thinking about [PROJECT] today and remembered you mentioned [SPECIFIC THING THEY CARED ABOUT]. Came across [RELEVANT THING] and thought of you: [LINK or ONE-LINE INSIGHT].

No pitch, just sending it your way.

If you ever need help with [WHAT YOU DO] again, I'm a reply away.

[YOUR NAME]

Email 13: Referral request (after a win)

Subject: quick favor

Hi [FIRST NAME],

Glad [PROJECT] worked out. One ask if you have 60 seconds:

*Do you know one or two other [BUYER TYPE] who might have the same problem we just solved?
An intro from you would mean a lot — and I'd give them [INCENTIVE: % off / free audit / etc.].*

Totally fine if not. Either way, thanks again.

[YOUR NAME]

Email 14: Annual check-in

Subject: one year later

Hi [FIRST NAME],

A year ago today (roughly) we wrapped [PROJECT]. Curious — what's the biggest thing that's changed for [YOUR COMPANY] since then?

No agenda, genuinely just wondering. If you reply, I'll send back one specific idea for what's next based on whatever you tell me.
